

Ventilation grille V1

DESCRIPTION OF THE MATERIAL

The plywood used for the V1 grille is Baltic birch plywood, also known as Multipli, renowned for its superior quality. Unlike traditional plywood made from softwoods (such as spruce, poplar, or pine), Multipli is made entirely from layers of birch, a hardwood.

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

- Wood species: 100% Baltic birch (hardwood)
- Structure: Plywood, without leaves or soft veneers
- Grade: BB (two uniform sides)
- Knots allowed: Small sound knots and pinholes (very limited)
- Repairs: Open knots and defects filled with veneer inserts of a similar color
- Stiffness: Very high
- Dimensional stability: Excellent
- Origin: Northern Europe/Baltic States

ADVANTAGES OF MULTIPLI IN ARCHITECTURAL APPLICATIONS

- Ideal for manufacturing decorative grilles thanks to its superior mechanical strength
- Uniform, attractive surface, perfect for visible finishes
- Suitable for heavy-duty use in commercial and institutional environments
- Compatible with precision CNC or laser cutting without delamination
- More rigid and durable than standard plywood

POSSIBLE VARIATIONS

It is possible to add a frame to the ventilation grille. Two types of profiles are available.
